Chickering Hall, Senator Sherman de- a court-martial. Chickering that, Senator Sherman de-livered an claborate address. At the conclusion of his remarks, Blaine came disbursing officer of the Postoffice Destration.. When silence was restored he debt for October is $8,250,000.

"Business men of New York:—I deem it an honor to follow Senator Sherman. (Applause.) I deem it an especial honor to follow Secretary Sherman (applause), for I can say that, in our financial history, he takes rank among the really illustrious men who have administered the Treasury Department of the United States. (Renewed applause.) It was the good fortune of Mr. Hamilton to organize that department with his masterly ability Mr. Hamilton to organize that department with his masterly ability and place the credit of the young republic on an enduring pasis. It was the good fortune of Alexander J. Dallas to carry the finances of the government through the embarrassments resulting from the war of 1812. It was the good fortune of William H. Crasford after the great depression tion act, and in the executive department to administer its provisions and carry it to a successful issue. (Applause.) That resumption act is a continuing blessing and benefit to this country. (Loud applause.) It has placed the government finances and the improve of the resumption act is a continuing blessing and benefit to this country. (Loud applause.) It has placed the government finances and the improve of the resumption as stable improve. finances of the people upon a stable foundation, and I am sure that, from the brief historic review I have veno the duty of the people in the impending national contest. If the resumption act and the great services of financial measures of which it was the fitting climax, be a benefit to the business interests of this country, the political influence of the business area of the country should certainly be given the party which originated and culored that legislation. There is no need for me, before the business men of New York, to supplement the argument which I am sure Mr. Sherman has made complete, and I should hardly have dared to give myself the pleasure of appearing here but for my desire to testify in this great metropolis of the Union my appreciation of your discounted. tinguished guest's services, (applause) and while I am here I may be permitted to add that not alone in the financial and business department of the legislation which interest every man, using at their officers by using at their officers by using at their toilets "Grayx's Surpring legislation which interest every man, but in all the great avenues of life in all that relates to the great people. The twenty-three years during which the Republican party has been in power are certainly distinguished beyond any certainly distinguished beyond any equal period in our history, saving and accepting alone the immortal period which gave us our independence and our Constitution. (Great applause.) At ano time, certainly, have the educational interests of the people been so greatly and so rapidly silvanced; at no time have the spirit of humanity and benevolence of the people been so generously developed as during that period. At no time, certainly, has Christian charity made so marked an advance as during the period in which the Republicant.

There is no power of love so hard to get at as a sweet voice. A kind hand is deaf and dumb. It may be rough in flesh and blood, yet do the work of a soft-heart, and do it with a soft touch. it means, and it is hard to get it and keeps it in the right tone. One must start in youth and be on the watch night and day, at work and play, to get a voice that shall at all times speak the thoughts of a kind heart. But this is the time when a sharp voice is apt to be got.
You often hear children at play speak with a sharp tone, as if it were the snap of a whip. When one of them gets for use, and keep their best voice for those they chance to meet elsewhere, just as they would save their best cakes and pies for guests, and their sour food for their own board. We would say to all boys and girls. "Use your guests' voice at home." Watch it day by day as a pearl of great price, for it will be worth more to you in time to come than the best pearl held in the sea. A kind voice is a lark's song to a hearth and voice is a lark's song to a hearth and home, and the sweetest music in all the world to one who loves you. It is to the the heart what light is to the eye.
